Dear Sir or Ma'am:

Native American Christian Academy is a non-profit boarding school program educating under-privileged, educationally disenfranchised students in Arizona. Most of our students come from reservations, primarily the Navajo and Apache. Our mission is to educate and disciple students for Christ.

Our vision is to bring students in with what they want, and send them out with what they need. We are trying to attract them in a variety of ways, but the most important ways are providing a quality education and a safe environment. What they need is to know they're secure, significant, and accepted. They learn those three attributes through Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Savior. This requires dedication on our staff's part, but also requires we get staff the right materials to provide this opportunity with excellence.

- One of the ways you can help us is through the Arizona State Tax Credit Program. Your state tax liability can be donated to ACSTO (Arizona Christian School Tuition Organization), or could be paid directly on our school website (<http://nativeamericanchristianacademy.org/>) and in return you will receive a dollar for dollar state tax credit.
- Coincidentally, we are taking steps of faith to do away with any government support, the tax credit program can help us accomplish this. It keeps money in your pockets for other missionaries you desire to support while yet still providing for our mission school.

How much is a soul worth? Will you help our students? Will you help our staff fulfill the Great Commission? Will you get your church involved on our behalf?

Sincerely,

Kristopher Miller
